PUBLIC AWAITS WRECK INQUIRY

Probe of Empress of Ireland
Sinking Begins June 9.

STORSTAD WILL FILE BOND

Attorneys for Collier Alleged to Be Responsible for the Collision Will Appear in the Canadian Admiralty Court and Offer $240,000 Security for Release of the Steamer.

Montreal, June 2.—Now that the first burst of excitement and grief over the sinking of the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Ireland has partly spent itself the public generally is settling down to await the result of the government's inquiry to fix the responsibility for the disaster. A royal commission of three was appointed to investigate the ramming and sending to the bottom of the St. Lawrence river early Friday morning of the Empress of Ireland by the Norwegian collier Storstad.

The three men who will comprise the investigating tribunal are Sir Adolph Routhier, judge of the court of admiralty of Quebec, and Hon. Ezekiel McLeod, chief justice and judge of the admiralty court of New Brunswick, appointed by the Canadian government, and George L. Vaux of the legal staff of the British board of trade.

The hearing will begin June 9. Pending the convening of the commission of inquiry Captain Lindsay, Dominion commissioner, will continue the preliminary investigation by taking testimony of survivors of the disaster and the members of the crew of the Storstad and assembling evidence for the use of the commissioners.

The second step in the legal battle arising out of the sinking of the Empress of Ireland will be taken when attorneys for the owners of the Storstad will appear in the admiralty division of the exchequer court and offer a bond of $240,000 and ask that the collier be released from arrest.

FIND DAZED NUDE WOMAN

She Is Believed to Be Survivor of Empress Wreck.

Rimouski, June 2.—A woman, apparently a Swede, was found wandering naked near Rimouski. She was dazed and unable to give an account of herself. It is believed that she is a survivor of the wreck of the Empress of Ireland who made her way to land on a piece of wreckage and was driven insane by suffering.

SENATE AUTHORIZES SALE

Greece Willing to Buy the Idaho and Mississippi.

Washington, June 2.—The senate amended the naval appropriation bill so as to authorize the sale of the battleships Idaho and Mississippi and the construction of a modern dreadnought with the money. Greece is understood to be the prospective purchaser.

Explaining the plan of the government Senator Lodge informed the senate that if the authorization was made it would effect a European country would offer to buy the two vessels at cost or more. He added that the vessels were 13,000 tons each, while the latest battleships were of 20,000 tons.

The senate reinstituted the house provision for the building of one of the two new battleships at a government yard.

A clause was inserted to authorize the secretary of the navy to appoint annually fifteen enlisted men not over twenty years of age to the navy academy.

BRYAN TO LECTURE AGAIN

Secretary of State Says He Will Use Part of Vacation.

Washington, June 2.—Secretary Bryan announced that if public business permitted he would spend part of his vacation this year lecturing on the Chautauqua circuit as he did last year. Mr. Bryan's first lecture will be delivered in North Carolina July 4. He said he did not know how many lectures he would be able to give and that all of the arrangements would be contingent upon his being able to leave Washington.

BANK IS SHORT $150,000

Examiners Find Loss in First National of Amsterdam, N. Y.

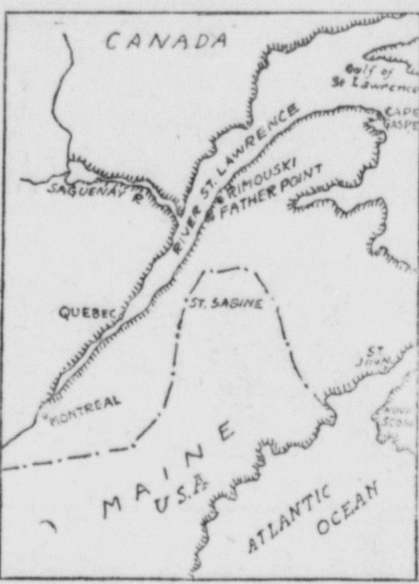

Washington, June 2.—National examiners inspecting the books of the First National bank of Amsterdam, N. Y., to ascertain the loss by defalcations notified Deputy Comptroller of the Currency Kane that they found the shortage to be $150,000. The amount, it was said, will be made good and the business of the bank is going on uninterrupted.

Boy Killed by Lightning.

Sioux Falls, S. D., June 2.—Isidor Johnson, nineteen years old of Lincoln county, was killed by lightning while he was riding on horseback. His mother was killed in a wind storm that tore the Johnson home to pieces fourteen years ago.

NOT A DISSENTING VOTE

House Legalizes Unions and Farmers' Organizations.

Washington, June 2.—Trade unions and farmers' unions would be specifically legalized in their existence and declared not to be combinations in restraint of trade by a paragraph which the house incorporated in the Clayton bill to supplement the anti-trust laws. Although it is designed only to clarify existing law organized labor leaders say the final passage of this amendment will mark the culmination of a fight waged by them for fourteen years—since the passage of the Sherman anti-trust law—for exemption from prosecution under the laws against monopolies and restraints of trade.

On a vote to perfect the labor provision the house was recorded 207 for and none against.

TAFT WITHDRAWAL
ORDER IS INVALID

Federal Judge Decides in Favor of Oil Companies.

Los Angeles, June 2.—A withdrawal order by which William H. Taft, while president in 1909, exempted from entry government lands in California variously estimated in value at from $250,000,000 to $1,000,000,000, was declared invalid in a decision of Judge Maurice T. Dooling of the United States district court of San Francisco, which reached Los Angeles by mail.

Judge Dooling heard the case in Los Angeles, sitting in place of Judge Olin Wellborn, who considered himself disqualified.

Judge Dooling's decision nullifies the order by which the former president planned to provide a great source of fuel for the oil land from entry by private locators and gives to the Midway Oil company and the Standard Oil company, the principal defendants, undisputed possession.

The application for an order restraining the defendants from further use of the land and for a receiver is denied.

Similar minor actions now pending will be affected by the decision.

WOMAN LIKELY TO RECOVER

St. Paul Man Shoots Wife and Hotel Proprietor.

St. Paul, June 2.—Tony Skally, proprietor of the Star hotel, was shot mortally by Albert Masterman. A moment before Masterman had fired three shots at his wife, injuring her seriously but not fatally. Masterman escaped and is still at large.

Andrew Erickson, a friend of the fugitive, witnessed the affair and, describing it to the police, said that Masterman had declared that the intimacy between Skally and his wife was the cause of his action.

Twenty Die in San Domingo.

Washington, June 2.—Twenty casualties occurred in a clash between contending forces near Puerto Plata, Santo Domingo, Captain Elberle of the cruiser Washington reported to the navy department.

DRASTIC ACTION TO PASS BILLS

Five Minute Debate on Appropriations No Longer Allowed.

VALUABLE PRIVILEGE LOST.

Members Abused Right to Record Opinions and Delay Thus Caused Made Passage of Measures Difficult. Good Wishes For Senator Gallinger Expressed by Democrats.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 2.—[Special.]—By abusing the privileges which the rules of the house granted them certain members are now going to punish the other members and themselves also by forcing that body to a direct and drastic method of legislation on appropriation bills.

The long, weary weeks occupied in considering an appropriation bill, when all trivial matters were debated, when points of order were made and when member after member arose and with a motion to "strike out the last word" could get five minutes and discuss anything under the sun, has finally aroused the men who really control the house to the necessity of doing something which will stop this method of procedure.

Heretofore this five minute rule privilege was of considerable value to members of the house for the purpose of getting in short speeches in opposition to some provision in an appropriation bill. Also the point of order was valuable to prevent obnoxious legislation, but it has been used with such indiscriminate folly for the last two or three years that there is a general determination in the house to rid itself of this method of obstruction so far as possible.

The result will be more expeditious legislation, and it will be rather surprising if the legislation is not worse than heretofore.

Explained by Mann.

The necessity for taking this drastic action was explained by Minority Leader Mann, who said: "We have wasted so much time in this congress doing things which amount to nothing that we have got to make a change in the rules or some change in law or make up our minds to stay here all summer or do no real legislation." It is impossible to continue the business of the house under the existing rules and laws.

And yet many of the defenders of the rules have said that they are the best system that any legislative body ever devised. The fact is that these rules have gradually been built up for the purpose of permitting a few men who manage the house to do as they please and prevent other legislation. But in building up such a machine it finally crumbles of its own weight, and now further drastic action is to be taken in order to suppress the power of the individual member.

Good Wishes For Gallinger.
"Unless we could get a Democrat we would like to see Senator Gallinger from New Hampshire re-elected," is the sentiment expressed by many Democrats here. The senator from New Hampshire is the "father of the senate," the longest in service. In the give and take of partisan politics Senator Gallinger has delivered and received as many blows as any man who ever occupied a seat in the senate.

Absolutely fearless, a strong partisan, a constant attendant upon the sessions, with a wide range of information on all public affairs, he has built up and maintained a unique position for himself. He is a sturdy type of the New Englander, as steadfast as his own granite hills. He has never occupied much time in debate, and what he has to say on public questions is clear, keen and incisive. Such men become almost fixtures in the senate.

A Competent Leader.
Senator Kern of Indiana had been but two years in the senate when he was chosen as a Democratic leader. It was a matter of some surprise that so many of his seniors in service were passed over, but the year that he has held the position of majority leader has demonstrated that he is in every way competent for the place. Evidence of this is in the fact that there is no attempt on the part of other Democratic senators to become leaders, which is often the case in a legislative body and has been common on the Democratic side since the days of Senator Gorman.

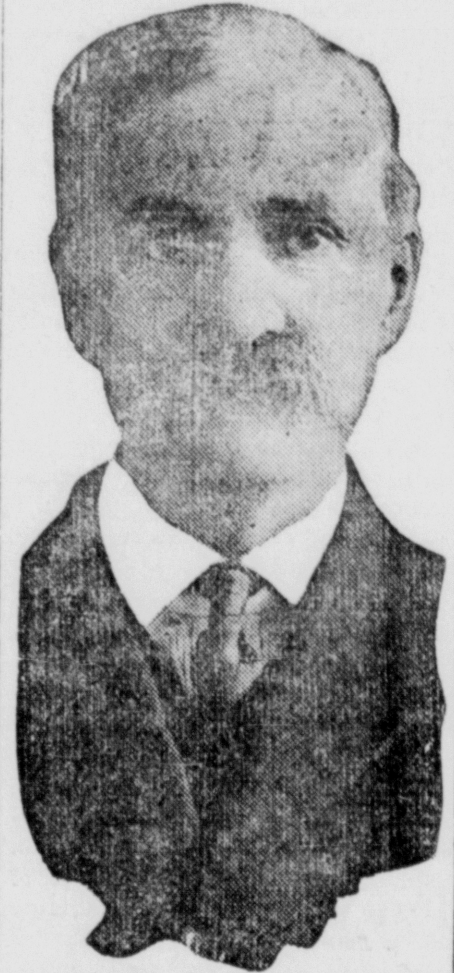

Poetry in Prayers.
Rev. Henry N. Condon, who is chaplain of the house, has been injecting poetry into his prayers of late. The chaplain probably has as much right to put poetry in his prayers as members of the house have to inject poetry into debates on the canal tolls. Heretofore poetry has usually been applied to obituaries and eulogies, but now it sprinkles through the Record at various times.

Owen Is Persistent.
There are few more persistent men in the senate than Owen of Oklahoma. He still believes that there is a possibility of getting some sort of a rule adopted which will shut off debate in the senate. Many senators enter upon their first terms with that idea, but they soon get a different viewpoint. Owen is about the only man that is really persistent in this matter.

CUMMINS HAS LONG LEAD

Senator Wins Sweeping Victory in Iowa Primaries.

Des Moines, June 2.—Sweeping victories for Senator Albert B. Cummins and Governor George W. Clarke were indicated by returns of the state primaries. Cummins' majority is estimated at 40,000, while Governor Clarke's lead will be 30,000 on the basis of returns already received.

Congressman Maurice Connolly of Dubuque easily won the Democratic senatorial nomination over E. T. Meredith of Des Moines. His majority is estimated at about 10,000. Casper Schenk of Des Moines, Progressive, was nominated for senator over S. H. Bashor of Waterloo.

John T. Hamilton of Cedar Rapids won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination over V. R. McGinnis of Leon by a small majority.

BELIEVES FREIGHT RATES ARE TOO LOW

President Thinks Roads Are Entitled to Increase.

Washington, June 2.—President Wilson indicated more clearly than ever before his belief that a need exists for an authorized increase in freight rates from the interstate commerce commission.

The president let it be known that he thinks the present depression of business radiates from railroad offices and is confined to those industries which are practically dependent upon the railroad prosperity.

The president defended his statement of last week that the present depression is psychological.

The tariff has nothing to do with this depression, the president declared, nor does the depression in this country equal that abroad.

The depression in the railroad business has been radiated to the steel industry and other related industries and in turn has been reflected in the money market by the tightening of credit.

The psychological aspect of the present depression, the president asserted, lies in the fact that in its last analysis it is based upon timidity with regard to the future.

SAYS GOVERNOR STRUCK HER

Woman Sues Kansas Executive for $2,315 Damages.

Topeka, Kan., June 2.—The suit of Mrs. Luella West against Governor George H. Hodges for $2,315 damages, based on an alleged attack in the governor's office when it is charged, Governor Hodges struck the woman as she sought to carry copies of his private correspondence from the office, was called in the Shawnee county circuit court here.

Mrs. West came here from her home in Wichita to urge a parole for Arthur Sullivan, a convict. Governor Hodges refused to grant the parole and Mrs. West and a woman companion sought to secure copies of letters on which the governor based his decision.

When the governor refused the request for the letters Mrs. West struck them, and it is charged, the governor then struck Mrs. West and wrenched her wrist in attempting to regain the papers.

All the charges are denied by the governor.

Hunter Would Be Senator.

Lexington, Ky., June 2.—Dr. Godfrey Hunter, former congressman and United States minister to Guatemala and Honduras from 1897 to 1902, announced his candidacy for the nomination for United States senator on the Republican ticket to succeed the late W. O. Bradley.

INHERITANCE TAXES GROW

Minnesota Will Collect Over $1,000,000
During Fiscal Year.

St. Paul, June 2.—More than $1,000,000 will have been collected by the state in inheritance taxes during the fiscal year ending July 1, according to a statement issued by Attorney General Lyndon A. Smith.

So far the total is $560,342 and Mr. Smith expects the receipts during the next two months to aggregate $500,000.

This will break all previous records, the biggest year since the inheritance tax law went into effect having been 1912, when $678,512 was collected.

The law makes the attorney general the collector of these taxes and since Mr. Smith assumed office Jan. 1, 1912, he has turned into the state treasury, $1,430,162 from foreign estates.

UNION OFFICIAL REINSTATED

A. F. of L. Rules Against St. Louis Central Body.

St. Louis, June 2.—Owen Miller, secretary of the American Federation of Musicians, is reinstated in the Central Trades and Labor Union of St. Louis by a decision received from the secretary of the American Federation of Labor.

Miller was expelled as the result of a controversy with J. C. Shanessy, national organizer for the journeymen barbers, who charged that Miller had published an article reflecting on him.

Carranza's Agents Issue Semi-Official Statement.

SAY VICTORY IS ABOUT WON

Constitutionalists Declare They Never Will Consent to Have Anything to Do With Any One Friendly to or Heretofore Connected With General Huerta.

El Paso, Tex., June 2.—Criticism of the mediators at Niagara Falls and declaring the Constitutionalists never will consent to have anything to do with any one friendly to or heretofore connected with General Huerta, General Carranza's agents here gave out a semi-official statement from his headquarters in Durango.

The statement, which was addressed to the newspapers of America with a note to the effect that it had official sanction, although it was not a formal declaration, was as follows:

"Judging from what has been published from day to day the mediators appear to consider General Carranza and his followers as a negligible quantity, scarcely worthy of attention and who must, perforce, agree to whatever conclusion the commission may reach. 'They do not seem to be aware of the fact that the Constitutionalists are conquerors, that they have inaugurated and carried almost to successful completion a revolution, and that this means the establishment of a government entitled to recognition by the rest of the world.'

"The recent successes of the Constitutionalists armies, and others that are imminent, are conclusive proof that the power of Huerta practically is ended. His troops will not fight. They either run away or join their opponents with every sign of willingness.

Will Move on Mexico City.

"All that prevents the Constitutionalists from entering Mexico City is the physical obstacle of the destruction of the railroads. With communication restored, which is being accomplished with rapidity, the army would be in Mexico City in less than a week.

"The peace commission even goes so far as to propose that the Constitutionalists must recognize whatever provisional government they decide to set up and to declare that they must be forced to recognize that government or be crushed.

"The Constitutional leaders are wondering how they are to be forced to do this in view of their present accomplishments and by whom they are to be crushed if they decline to obey the commission. Calmly, too, the commissioners propose that Huerta shall be permitted to be a candidate for the presidency in order merely to save his face."

No one, the Constitutional leaders point out, who has had any acquaintance with the objects and purposes of their movements, would fancy for a single moment that they would have anything whatever to do with any one friendly to, or heretofore connected with, Huerta. The Constitutionalists make plain beyond question that they will recognize a government established under the plan of Guadalupe at the triumph of the revolution.

VILLA DENOUNCES ENEMIES

Rebel General Not a Candidate for the Presidency.

Chihuahua, Mex., June 2.—General Francisco Villa is believed definitely to have put an end to rumors that he wants the presidency of Mexico in a statement he issued.

"I have been informed that our enemies, the men who belong to the party of treachery," General Villa says, "are developing intrigues abroad, using my humble but unstained name and exalting my military merits, with the object of making me appear with an ambition which I do not possess, for the purpose of establishing division and discord among the Constitutionalists."

NO SIGNS OF MISSING SHIP

Torpedo Boat Destroyers Fruitlessly Seek the Luckenbach.

Norfolk, Va., June 2.—The torpedo boat destroyers Beale and Fanning have reached here from Tampico ahead of their convoys, the cruisers Dixie and Birmingham. The destroyers were conveying eight torpedo boats from Tampico to Hampton Roads when they received orders to search for the missing steamer Luckenbach when off the coast of Florida. The destroyers saw no signs of the missing steamer.

WHITE HOUSE BRIDE

Mrs. William G. McAdoo Is Suffering From Sore Throat.

Washington, June 2.—Mrs. William G. McAdoo is suffering from a sore throat, according to advices to the White House from Cornish, N. H. The slight illness is expected to delay the return of the McAdoos to the capital until the end of the week. Mrs. W. J. Bryan will give a garden party for them Saturday.

There will be a meeting of the Young Peoples guild of St. Paul's church Wednesday evening at eight o'clock. There is business of importance to be disposed of, after which the evening will be spent in social entertainment and refreshments.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schroer of Gladstone, Mich., and John Lee were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. John A.
Cochran and caught a lot of fish in Whitfish lake, taking home with them today a number of pike. They were well pleased with their fishing experience.

The ladies of the First Congregational church will load and ship a car load of magazines Thursday and Friday, June 4th and 5th. Anyone having old magazines, books and ledgers that they wish to get rid of, please notify any of the ladies of the church who will be glad to take them away.

Olaf Haglund, a prosperous farmer of Moorhead, died there May 3, of apoplexy at the age of 70. The remains were sent to Brainerd where the relatives include Peter Forsberg and others. The funeral was held at 2:30 this afternoon from the Forsberg residence on Northeast Pine street, Rev. W. J. Lowrie officiating.

Among the visitors at the nurses graduation exercises at Northwestern hospital were Miss Minnie Phillips, superintendent of the hospital at Lake Geneva, Wis., Mrs. S. B. Christopher and Mrs. Lillian Smylie of Clyde E. Parker and Frank Hill had a fishing experience at North Long lake in which they caught within eight pounds as many fish as did John Carlson on a memorable historic occasion. Fifteen weighed 52 pounds and a panoramic picture was taken of the catch to back up the veracity of the fishermen. Parker also incidentally landed four dogfish and caught one of them twice.

SKULL FRACTURED BY MOTORCYCLE

Edward Olson Meets with Serious Accident on Oak Street Road Four Miles East of City

COLLAR BONE IS ALSO BROKEN

Injured Man Picked up by Rev. M. L. Hostager, Who Took him in Auto to Hospital

With skull fractured and collar bone broken, Edward Olson, aged 22, son of O. C. Olson, was picked up unconscious on the Oak street road four and a half miles east of Brainerd where he had fallen from his motorcycle and was dragged over forty feet.

Rev. M. L. Hostager, who was driving his car to South Long lake, found Olson in a ditch of water, with his head up and bleeding profusely. The accident happened about 3:30 Monday afternoon.

Rev. Hostager and Arthur Larson, who was traveling with the minister, carried the unconscious man to the automobile and they drove to the Northwestern hospital. Olson is still unconscious and is not expected to recover.

Olson was driving his motorcycle at a furious gait. He so passed a farmer on the road who later drove alongside of the automobile when Rev. Hostager was picking up the wounded man.

At the Columbia

The Mexican pictures were the first of its kind seen in Brainerd. Although they contained no actual battles they gave wonderful sidelights of Villa's life. The same pictures will be shown again tonight. Tomorrow a great 4 reel drama is staged "The Conspiracy," made by "Eclair" Paris.

At the Grand

Ivanhoe, dramatized from Sir Walter Scott's novel will be shown at the Grand tomorrow and Thursday nights. This will take you back when the Christian Knights were fighting for the cross in the Holy Land. The motion photos of it will be more realistic than reading the story. There are points brought out which were never that of before. This wonderful 4 reels of pictures were taken at Chepstow Castle, England. We urge our patrons to see it at 5c and 10c.

CHAUTAUQUA TO PAY A LICENSE

Matter Came up at Council Meeting Monday Evening and City Atty. Crowell Read the Law

POP CORN WAGONS TO PAY $50

Band Engaged for $600 to Play Summer Concerts Wednesday Evenings—Other Matters

The question of the coming Chautauqua paying a license for exhibiting in the city was discussed at the council meeting Monday evening. Three moving picture men were present.

City Attorney W. H. Crowell read the law on the subject as follows: "Subdivision 3 of section 3 of Ordinance No. 152 provides that for all minstrel and operatic entertainments and shows of like nature held in tent, temporary building or open air a license fee of $10 shall be paid for the first performance and $5 for each subsequent performance."

An ordinance licensing pop corn wagons at $50 a year was given its first reading.

The city entered into a contract with the Brainerd City band at $600 to furnish music Wednesday evenings during the summer season. The organization also agreed to play on special occasions designated by the city. The concerts are to be given in the park designated by the city. Twenty instruments is to be the size of the band. The first concert will be given tomorrow evening in the city park.

The usual number of routine bills was allowed. All members of the council were present.

Judge J. H. Warner asked that another day policeman be appointed. It was difficult for one policeman to attend court and also patrol, at the same time, the streets of Brainerd.

The mayor appointed as policeman P. W. Varner and Nikolai E. Langner and their appointment was confirmed. Mayor Henning informed the council that Joseph Nelson had resigned as a member of the park board and appointed to fill the vacancy, J. H. Strickler, which appointment was confirmed.

The city engineer was instructed to go ahead with street paving and sidewalk work. A liquor license was granted Andrew Carlson. The city clerk was instructed to notify all license holders that on and after July 1 the annual saloon license was $1,000.

V. N. Roderick filed his bonds as city clerk and clerk of the municipal court in the sum of $1,000 each.

The city entered into a contract with Mrs. Vindia Johnson to board Mrs. Sophie Moberg at $18 a month.

NOTE

Holders of tickets for the Catholic school entertainment can exchange same for reserved seats at Dunn's now or at the box office of the Park Theatre after 7:30 tomorrow evening.

SELFISHNESS AND UNSELFISHNESS

President George Vincent uses This as His Theme in Commencement Address

AT HIGH SCHOOL GRADUATION

Supt. W. C. Cobb and President of Board of Education R. R. Wise Also Spoke

President George Vincent, of the University of Minnesota, spoke to a large audience at Park Theatre Monday evening on the occasion of the graduating of 34 Brainerd high school students.

Selfishness and Unselfishness was his theme and he elaborated on the necessary study of self in order to understand those terms. Each commencement had its ritual of routine terms. It was human to use phrases and shibboleths. Every community had them. Phrases by constant use sometimes became automatic. They were respected from generation to generation. Then when somebody asked us what they meant there was as much trouble as in Socrates' time. People could not endure Socrates' questioning and at length they handed him the poison cup. Socrates made people think.

Phrase mongering, however, was a most useful thing. Think of approaching a human being and compelled at each meeting to greet him with something never said before. How would the lawyers survive without their archaic language, the college professors without their phrases, the physicians without their scientific and Latinized vocabulary, the politicians without their soul-stirring periods.

"Life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." Be satisfied with the phrase if you wish, but you will not get them unless you go after them yourself. No one else will for you," said the speaker.

It was thought at one time that there was but one cant, religious cant. The speaker contended there was also a political cant, a literary cant which publicly worshipped Browning and then read Laura Jean Libbey in secret, an aesthetic cant which adored high art and then doted on colored supplements. It was time for the people to see if many of these old time phrases could be used with honesty and sincerity.

Mr. Vincent then took up his real subject, "Selfishness and Unselfishness." These terms were easily explained. Selfish was what other people did, and unselfish was what you did. Mr. Vincent detailed the view of life he acquired when he read the wrong essay of John Locke and found this maxim: "Selfishness is the sole motive of human conduct." Mr. Vincent, at the then mature age of 16, had heard of self-sacrifice, but here was a new philosophy and he worked it out to its ultimate finish and became sorely afflicted with an attack of cephalic elephantiasis. His classmates were scandalized at his philosophy, that is scandalized in a reasonable, intellectual way. He became a source of anxiety to many charming girls in the class.

They gave him examples of chivalry, of devotion, etc., on which to test his Locke doctrine. Why did the man give up his seat in the street car. Was he chivalrous to the lady? No, said the new doctrine, he did it because he felt uncomfortable when the women stared at him through his newspaper and he stepped on the platform to avoid their gaze. The mother who sacrificed herself for her child did so because she liked to do things to and for her child. The young woman who wanted to be a missionary did so to gratify by realization her picture of swinging under a coconut tree and reading to a band of savages.

Eventually Mr. Vincent unloaded so much of this brand of philosophy on his classmates, that by the law of contrast, he soon bored them and his acute discussion of ethics seemed to have no further bearing on human conduct, and it tumbled to pieces in the end.

"Things cannot be called selfish or unselfish until we are agreed on what self is," said the speaker. We all had a self, and this was expressed by figures of speech, symbolism, etc. By metaphor and analogy we build a cantilever bridge from the known to the unknown. The threshold of consciousness was a term often used. Some people had a shop window and a store room in their mind. The stream of consciousness expressed the idea of the continuity of impressions. Was your life a babbling brook, a turbid stream or one strong and deep.

Another has described the brain as a house with electric lights, the brain cells associated with the memory tracts lighting up when the switch was turned on. The smell exuding from a general store in the country always brought to Mr. Vincent's mind the time when he measured calico there and he measured so closely, holding his finger on the mark, that the old lady solicitously asked him not to cut his finger nail when cutting the cloth.

The best moving pictures were to be found in the mind, within us. There were pictures of places, scenery, deeds, etc. Inside was the spectator looking at it. Have you a good collection of pictures? Has the observer there any great knowledge? There were three kinds of pictures. In one set one found great satisfaction, the ones in which you appeared to good advantage. The president of the Brainerd graduation class bore such a picture because of the fact that he had made a good speech, he had not hesitated and he had sat down when he finished. Had he stuttered and lost his place it would have made a picture of the other kind. A pleasant picture for a lady to contemplate was her figure draped in the new gown which had excited all kinds of admiration.

Pictures which excited a different feeling were those conveyed to the mind showing mistakes, social errors, intellectual blunders. Well did Mr. Vincent remember his freshmen days when he attended a reception and was given a cup of some dark liquid and supposed it to be coffee and added cream and sugar. And then some supercilious classmate nudged him and informed him his cup had bouillon in it. In later life Mr. Vincent headed a procession in the Twin Cities gay with flags, banners, bands, etc. and winding up with a string of tractions engines. At the fair grounds the head of the procession met the tail end and as a result Mr. Vincent's horse finding no other place to go, essayed to go straight up. Mr. Vincent hung on as the angle assumed 47, 60 degrees and at 87, no longer able to hold the animal, he fell off. The Twin City reporters were good to him. They said, that being a perfect horseman, he landed on his feet. Mr. Vincent however confessed they had a mistaken idea of anatomy if they believed his feet to have landed first. For some months after the picture of that horse was no pleasant mental vision to bring up.

In Mr. Vincent's younger days he was permitted to introduce Chautauqua celebrities. He had the honor of introducing Dr. Buckley, a man of brilliant intellectuality and remorseless wit. Mr. Vincent worked up a literary introduction because he was anxious to impress upon people the idea that he too was present with Dr. Buckley. He started out with a sonorous introduction and referred to the huge steamer which sails from port and is pulled by little tugboats and after they have piloted the ship through the channel, it sails, like Dr. Buckley away on the high seas of intellectual endeavor.

Dr. Buckley gave a grim smile and turned to the audience and then to Mr. Vincent and said simply: "I suppose you noticed the other day that one of those little tugboats blew up." Self control, said Mr. Vincent, was control of mental imagery, and that consisted also of banishing from your mind foolish pictures. One became conceited if he looked on none but the pictures which flattered him. Before one became hopelessly conceited, the stupid pictures should be turned on.

Right imagery gave a right relationship to life. A man with a rich collection of slides was to be envied. A meager store of mind pictures created a narrow outlook, but views gathered from literature, history and contact with one's fellow men developed and broadened a man's conception and made him unselfish.

There was in every one a physical nucleus of self. Round about it were things savoring of the physical world, clothes, autos, houses, stocks and bonds, etc. It was a fatal error to build personality out of material things. There was a church self, a community self, central Minnesota self, and when something happened at Vera Cruz the whole nation became conscious of national unity. The smaller self of physical appetites should be overshadowed by the larger self of human interest.

If the institutions of America were to be preserved, if its solidarity was to be kept intact, it must be done by training men and women to acquire that largeness of view which deprecates group prejudice and abhors training in narrow lines, which seeks to interpret and not to condemn. Have sympathy with one's fellows and your self will go out in wider reaches. Resolve not to live narrow lives, but ones of large and generous proportions. Exalt the larger selfishness.

Supt. W. C. Cobb made short remarks and R. R. Wise, president of the board of education, also spoke. In conferring the diplomas Supt. Cobb called attention to the class motto, "To Be and Not to Seem," and referred to the diplomas, which seemed to be such were but rolls of wall paper, the paper factory having burned down. Later the real diplomas will be supplied.

Organizations of the high school furnished the music and required much applause. The introductory remarks were made by George Ribbel and he was heartily applauded. John Pendergast, said Mr. Cobb, stood the highest in scholarship.

CANDIDATE FOR SHERIFF

I hereby announce myself as a candidate for sheriff of Crow Wing county and respectfully solicit the support of all voters at the primary election to be held June 16, 1914, and if nominated and elected I pledge my best efforts in serving the people of the county.

I have been a resident and taxpayer of this county for 24 years, previous to which I served five years in the U. S. regular army, as sergeant of Co. B, 15th Infantry, where I received military training that will, I believe, be a valuable aid in performing the duties of the office which I feel confident I can perform efficiently and satisfactorily, if elected.

Respectfully,
ERICK KRONBERG.

Long Cut Tobacco

is the one perfect tobacco for the sturdy man who likes his tobacco rich, full-bodied and satisfying.

Made of pure Southern Kentucky leaf, aged carefully for three to five years so as to bring out all its natural flavor and sweetness. This is what makes PEERLESS always the same: It doesn't depend upon one season's crop, like many tobaccos. We have several seasons' crops always stored away.

And that's why a PEERLESS user never bothers experimenting with other brands. He knows the old reliable PEERLESS never varies—it's the one tobacco that always satisfies him. Take PEERLESS on the job for a week's try-out—after that you'll always carry PEERLESS in your jeans. Sold everywhere in 5c packages.

Other sizes, 10c, 20c and 40c Packages, and 45c Tin Pails.
